Amanda <sup>[1]</sup>

Amanda has always enjoyed singing and her past experiences have been varied; from warbling in the school choir to yelling out cheerful backing vocals for a local rock band down in deepest Devon ("Ooh Aarrh!"), graduating on to briefly fronting another band of a similar ilk before it expired due to it's not being very good! Since then her singing skills have been mainly deployed in true Mary Poppins fashion, while working in a children's nursery, singing wholesome renditions of 'The Wheels On The Bus' and other such classics. Encouraged by the enthusiastic, if not terribly discerning enjoyment her singing has prompted from the children, she decided to return to her love of singing, for a wider audience.
