Jana ^[1]

Jana likes to squeeze the zest out of life and recently, puree it and make it into an exciting oat cake. She auditioned for the school chamber choir when she was nine but was turned away, thought that she couldn't sing and that was that. Until a friend was singing in the University College London Chorus (Carmina Burana) and Jana discovered that there wasn't an audition! Frantic sight reading of a sort followed, and then performing in the Russian opera, Ruslan and Ludmilla, then great fun the London branch of the rock gospel choir, Revelation. The founder of Revelation also founded another choir called Respect which Jana joined. Paul Heatley took over Respect and later founded KiS. The rest is history! Jana is a member of KiS mainly for the rotating pelvises and occasional wild hairdos of the men.
